

Shellie Williams, Artemis Staffing Chief Executive Officer-Biography

Shellie Williams, CEO of Artemis Staffing is a former Principal Staffing Leader at Genentech and has been a Life Sciences Executive Search pro with over 20 years of talent acquisition experience. She has spearheaded recruitment at all levels including searches for start-ups as well as publicly traded and privately held Life Sciences companies. Shellie has experience locating talent over a broad spectrum of functions, in a variety of levels, such as Clinical Development, Commercial, Business Development, Regulatory Affairs, Quality and Finance.

As the Staffing Leader for Genentech/Roche she championed strategic recruitment for several divisions including Commercial, RQC (Regulatory, Quality & Compliance) as well as Product Portfolio Management, Business Development and for Product Development (early & late stage). Her previous experience also includes Partner and Vice President of another search firm. She started her career as the Research Manager for Boyden International in their San Francisco and Menlo Park offices.

Shellie is also on the Board of HBA's San Francisco Chapter for Corporate Relations and also participates on the UCLA Venture Capital Fund for Life Sciences as their Talent Advisor.

A graduate of UCLA, Shellie resides in the San Francisco Bay Area, has two daughters and enjoys the outdoors, cycling, hiking and traveling.

Clients/Search assignments: Board level, Leadership roles, Sales force launches