

Adam Dubow
Head, R&D Law Department

Adam is Head of the R&D Law Department at Bristol-Myers Squibb. He oversees the company's R&D Law Department with responsibility for providing legal counsel to all of the divisions within R&D including, but not limited to, Discovery, Development, Regulatory, Medical and Pharmacovigilance. Adam is a member of the R&D Leadership Team, Medical Leadership Team, and Law Department Senior Leadership Team.

Before joining Bristol-Myers Squibb, Adam was a Partner at Sedgwick, Detert, Moran & Arnold, a products liability law firm in New York City. Adam joined Bristol-Myers Squibb in 1999 as counsel to the U.S., Pharmaceuticals Group's Oncology, Virology and, subsequently, the Immunoscience divisions. In 2007, Adam moved to Singapore to serve as lead counsel for Asia Pacific and Japan. In 2009, Adam became lead counsel for Europe, Middle East and Africa based in Paris, France. He remained in that role for 3 ½ years before returning to the U.S., to begin a new function within the Company, Global and Corporate Policy. Adam continued in the Global and Corporate Policy role for 2 years before he was appointed counsel for the Intercontinental Region, China and Japan and then as Head of Legal for the European Markets, Australia and Canada (EMAC) Region.

Adam is the Executive Sponsor of the Law Department's Diversity and Inclusion Committee and co-leads the Engaging Men Work Stream within Bristol-Myers Squibb's Network of Women (B-NOW).

Adam holds a Juris Doctor degree from Fordham Law School and a Bachelor of Arts degree from Brandeis University.