Aashima spearheads Healthcare solutions for Google Cloud. In this role, she sets the direction for the transformative Healthcare solutions and leads engagement with healthcare key executives in helping transform their business strategies that define new models for care, revenue generation and improved patient experiences. By incorporating strategic technology elements of artificial intelligence and Cloud technologies into the care regimen, she strongly believes that patient care and experience can be substantially improved. . She founded and led Healthcare vertical and interoperability efforts at Apigee and is a passionate advocate for Open Data and the use of APIs to overcome Healthcare data Silos. Previously, Aashima led Digital Health Incubations at Kaiser Permanente and brought several frameshifting opportunities to life including first-ever Kaiser Permanente API. She was responsible for driving innovation through the convergence of various digital technologies. Key focus area was lifestyle integration leveraging Wearables, Sensors, Smart devices to reinvent care delivery for chronic condition management for the Diabetic population.

She has authored several Healthcare articles and is a frequent speaker at industry forums.She is founder of GirlsInTek, a initiative with a purpose is to ignite girl's innovative talent and interest in computer science.