

Janet Kim
Director, Global Communications and Corporate Marketing
Diabetes Group, Medtronic

Janet Kim is Director of Global Communications and Corporate Marketing for the Diabetes Group at Medtronic. In this role, Janet leads integrated internal and external communications for the largest business unit and region within the Diabetes Group - the Intensive Insulin Management (IIM) business which focuses on developing innovations in insulin delivery and continuous glucose monitoring for type 1 and type 2 diabetes, and the Americas Region. Janet sits on the Communications, IIM, Americas and Diabetes Group Global Leadership Teams.

Janet joined the Diabetes Group from Johnson & Johnson, where she most recently served as Senior Manager of Global Franchise Communications for the Cardiovascular and Specialty Solutions (CSS) Group. Prior to J&J, Janet managed global strategic communications at Edwards Lifesciences, where she was responsible for managing external communications for three business units including transcatheter heart valve therapy, surgical heart valve therapy and cardiac surgery systems. In this role, she led communications activities around the launch of the first transcatheter heart valve in the U.S. Janet began her communications career at Porter Novelli, a leading multinational public relations firm where she serviced clients across the healthcare spectrum.

Janet earned a B.A. in English from the University of California, Los Angeles and an M.A. in Communication Management from the University of Southern California. She is fluent in Korean and English. Janet, her husband Steve and their two kids Maddie, 4, and Preston, 1, live in La Canada, CA.