

Julie Krop, M.D.

Executive Vice President, Chief Medical Officer

Julie Krop, M.D. serves as AMAG's chief medical officer and executive vice president of clinical development and regulatory affairs. She joined AMAG in June 2015 and has more than 15 years of experience in drug development. Dr. Krop most recently worked for Vertex Pharmaceuticals, where she served as vice president of clinical development. She began her career in the biopharmaceutical industry in 1991 at Pfizer, Inc. and has since held various leadership positions at Stryker Regenerative Medicine, Peptimmune, and Millennium Pharmaceuticals. Dr. Krop received a Bachelor of Science degree from Brown University and a medical degree from the Brown University School of Medicine. She completed her residency in the Department of Medicine at Georgetown University Hospital and a fellowship in the Department of Endocrinology at The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. In addition, Dr. Krop was a Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Clinical Scholar.