

Cynthia Ladd
MyoKardia

Cynthia Ladd brings extensive experience as a biotech executive and expertise in intellectual property, business development, corporate governance and clinical and regulatory matters as well as operations to the MyoKardia leadership team where she serves as General Counsel.

Ms. Ladd joined MyoKardia, having most recently served as senior vice president and general counsel for CytomX Therapeutics, Inc. Before joining CytomX in 2015, she was an independent consultant to biotechnology companies (including CytomX), supporting corporate growth by advising on corporate strategy, negotiations around collaborations, and clinical and regulatory issues, as well as acting as general counsel. Prior to her consultancy, she was president and chief executive officer of AGY Therapeutics, leading the company through a successful venture round and its transition to a clinical organization. Ms. Ladd also served as senior vice president and general counsel at Pharmacyclics, where she led various operating groups, including regulatory affairs, advised on corporate governance and compliance, structured negotiations for business development activities and led all the legal activities, including those related to the company's intellectual property portfolio. Earlier in her career, Ms. Ladd held a number of positions at Genentech, including vice president of corporate law and chief corporate counsel.
