

Susie Newton, APRN, MS, AOCN, AOCNS

Susie is an Oncology Advanced Practice Registered Nurse (APRN) with over 25 years of Oncology experience and 20 years as an APRN. Susie serves as Vice President of Oncology Commercial Solutions at QuintilesIMS, where she consults with clients to optimize their oncology strategy and programs. Prior to working at QuintilesIMS, Susie spent 8 years at Johnson and Johnson in various capacities including Oncology Nurse Educator, Medical Science Liaison, Marketing Director, and Director of Oncology Nurses. In clinical practice, Susie was an Oncology Clinical Nurse Specialist in Dayton Ohio, where she coordinated the care of patients with cancer from the time of diagnosis through recovery. Susie also worked at Tulane University Cancer Center in New Orleans, and Venice Hospital in Florida.

In 2013, Susie was elected Director-at-Large of the 40,000 member Oncology Nursing Society. She served this term through 2016.

Educational background for Susie includes a Bachelors degree in nursing from Wright State University, and a Masters degree in Oncology nursing from the University of South Florida. Susie is certified as an Advanced Oncology Certified Nurse and as an Advanced Oncology Certified Nurse Specialist.

Susie has authored numerous professional articles, book chapters, and has published five nursing textbooks: “Telephone Triage for Oncology Nurses” (first and second editions), “Telephone Triage for Otorhinolaryngology Head-Neck Nurses”, and “Oncology Nursing Advisor” (first and second editions). Recently lecturing in the Middle East (Oman, Turkey, Israel / West Bank, and Dubai) on ten occasions and in Japan and China, Susie is an internationally known speaker and thought leader within the Oncology Nursing community.