

About Our Speaker

Carolyn Odom is the Director of Program Management at Abeona Therapeutics, a gene and cell therapy company in Midtown Cleveland with a focus on rare pediatric diseases. A graduate of Western Reserve Academy and the University of St. Andrews, she recently returned to Cleveland after 17 years away to join the burgeoning biotech and healthsciences scene in Northeastern Ohio. Carolyn is also a puppy raiser for Canine Companions for Independence and is rarely seen without a dog at her side.