

Lynn Razzano, MSN, RN, ONCC (Moderator)

Clinical Nurse Consultant, PPAHS

A recognized health/ patient safety expert and professional nurse for more than 43 years developing high level protocols for academic medical centers, hospitals, rehabilitation facilities and ambulatory surgery centers. A professional RN for 43 years, Razzano is well known for advice on performance improvement in health care, quality initiatives, regulatory compliance and patient safety endeavors. Razzano is an author, writer and conference presenter on topics such as The Affordable Care Act, VTE Prevention Protocols, Opioid Safety, Prevention of VTE in the OB patient population and patient/health care advocate for Continuous monitoring with opioid use and Alarm Management. She was a former Director of Quality and Corporate Compliance for 4 sub-acute long term care facilities and instrumental in being a lead Joint Commission facilitator with highly successful outcomes throughout her career. Over the past 8 years, Razzano has been a high volume and quality producer of clinically reviewing Post Marketing Surveillance complaints for several Medical Device Companies. Razzano is known to be a strong patient advocate fluent in harm reduction and prevention strategies.