

Clay H. Womack

Clay is the Practice Administrator for Westlake Medical Arts, one of the most advanced functional and regenerative medicine clinics in Texas. He had a 30 year career in investment banking before joining his wife's age management medical practice three years ago. Clay has financed over 300 companies with over $4 billion in total capital raised for them. He has most recently accepted an appointment as Executive Director of The Oxygen Foundation, a New York City based non-profit dedicated to the advancement and support of Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy in clinical and research applications. Clay is also a member of the board of directors of Element Hyperbarics, a new startup chain of HBOT clinics to be developed with a national footprint. He is a graduate of Pepperdine University's Graziadio School of Business, the proud father of nine children and lives with his wife, Dr. Eleanor P. Womack, in Austin, Texas.